Booktalk!

Lucy is a girl of many talents. Having spent many hours in her family's small-town pharmacy, she has become an expert on make-up, hair products, and beauty solutions. But business is very slow and Lucy wants to help.

When she rescues a girl from a serious hair problem, word spreads and girls flock to Lucy for makeovers. Her beauty skills increase sales at the store, especially with earth-friendly cosmetics.

Along with her best friend, Sunny, Lucy joins the afterschool Earth Club. She begins researching ideas to make the store more environmentally friendly and stumbles across an opportunity to win grant money. Lucy's mom and grandmother feel the store is about to fail, so Lucy turns to her big sister for help. Will Lucy win the grant and save the store?
