Good News, Bad News

Booktalk!

Mouse and Rabbit are out for a delightful afternoon picnic. Fortunately, Rabbit has packed a delicious lunch for them to share! Unfortunately, a rainstorm soon hits. Rabbit brought an umbrella, but it blows away and ends up in a tree.

Then they begin to see a pattern. As the day progresses, no matter what Rabbit does to improve the situation, something bad happens – which Mouse is always quick to point out.

Will this picnic be a warm memory, or will they end up all washed up? As you'll learn from this book, it's all about perspective.

Best for ages 4–7
