Story County: Here We Come!

Welcome to Story County! Farmer, Dog, Pig, Chicken, and Miss Cow are eager to make a farm. And it's no ordinary farm. They paint the barn a rainbow of colors, plant crops of jelly beans and candy corn, fashion the prettiest scarecrow, and more, until presto!—the farm is complete. Or is it? New York Times bestselling illustrator Derek Anderson takes readers from white page to colorful farm in this charming tale of friendship (and teamwork), as five friends come together to create Story County—a special new home for young readers, where anything can happen.

Tony Baloney does not love trouble... but trouble loves him.

Tony Baloney By Pam Muñoz Ryan

As the only boy sandwiched between too many sisters, Tony Baloney seems doomed to a life of trouble. Occasionally, or most of the time, when he is tired of playing with Bossy Big Sister Baloney (who always makes him be the kitty) and exasperated with the Bothersome Babies Baloney (who drool on his toys), his very best stuffed animal buddy, Dandelion, behaves badly. And then, Tony must say he is sorry, which is not always easy. Whether you are a bossy biggest, a mischievous middle, or a bothersome baby, you are sure to root for Tony and find yourself, or someone you love, in the Baloney family.

Mysterious letters. A secret code.
An utterly adorable first crush.

From the author of Deep Down Popular
PHOEBE STONE

The Romeo and Juliet Code Felicity's glamorous parents don't tell her anything when they drop her off at the Bathburn house in Maine. They don't tell her why Uncle Gideon acts so strangely. They don't tell her why Derek, the only other kid in the house, refuses to come out of his room. Worst of all, Felicity's parents don't tell her where they are going, and won't say when they'll return. And then the letters start coming, in slim blue Air Mail envelopes. Felicity is sure they're from her parents, but if so, why are they in code? Will Felicity discover just what the Bathburns are hiding? Can one person heal an entire family—all while in the throes of her first big crush? It's a tall order for a small girl, but Felicity is determined to crack the Romeo and Juliet code. 9780545215114

A funny, clear-eyed view of the realities of teenage love.

The Big Crunch Wes and Jen do not “meet cute.” They do not swoon with desire. They do not instantly feel like soul mates. This is not that kind of love story. Instead, Jen and Wes hang around in each other's orbits...until eventually they collide. And even after that happens, they're still not sure where it will go. Especially after Jen starts to pity date one of Wes's friends. Especially after their orbits don't align so closely anymore. This is a love story for readers not particularly biased toward romance. But it is romantic, in the same way that the truth can sometimes be romantic, and uncertainty can be a big come-on. 9780545240758 HC $17.99

Trapped The day the blizzard started, no one knew that it was going to keep snowing for a week. That it would be “one for the record books,” as the forecasters safe and dry in their TV studios would later say. That it would become not just a matter of keeping warm, but keeping alive...Scotty and his friends Pete and Tommy are among the last kids waiting to get picked up at their high school that day, and it doesn't take them long to realize that no one is coming for them. Still, it doesn't seem so bad to spend the night at school, especially when Krista and Julie, two hot to the point of being distracting freshmen, are sleeping in the next classroom over. But then the power goes out. Then the heat. Then the emergency generator. As the snow piles higher and higher, and the empty halls grow colder and darker, tempers rise and friendships fray...9780545210126

In post-World War II Russia, one boy dares to save an entire race of outlawed dogs.

Saving Zasha World War II has just ended when thirteen year old Mikhail finds a dying man and his German shepherd, Zasha, in the woods. It's dangerous—some say traitorous—to own a German dog after Germany attacked Russia, so Mikhail must keep Zasha a secret to keep her alive. But Mikhail's rival, Katia, is determined to find the dog she is sure he's hiding. At the same time, a soldier named Dimitri is breeding a new Russian dog at a nearby farm. So many dogs were lost to starvation and in combat that the country is in dire need of every kind of dog. Dimitri, too, has suspicions of Zasha's existence, and would like nothing more than to add her to his breeding program. Mikhail's inspiring journey to save his best friend, the last German shepherd in Russia, forces him to face some of life's hardest lessons about war, hate, forgiveness, hope, love, and man's best friend.
