Worms for Lunch?

“Who on earth would eat worms for lunch?” the curious little leaf loving worm wants to know....

“Not me!” says the mouse, who likes cheese.

“Not me!” says the little girl who loves spaghetti and ice cream! “Not me!” say the cow, the bee, the chick, and all the other animals....

Gore’s simple, engaging text and his playful die cuts reveal what every animal loves to eat most. In this sparkingly fresh, lighthearted romp, readers will relish the concept of individual taste as they guess what each different animal calls lunch. Who won’t be hungry to read this one again? 9780545243384 HC $16.99

Everything's coming up roses for this sweet, fresh new series!

Petal Pushers

By Catherine Daly

#1: Too Many Blooms Delphinium “Del” Bloom loves her grandparents’ flower shop, where it’s always peaceful and calm—unlike her cluttered house, where her three sisters, Rose, Aster, and Poppy, constantly cause drama. But then Gran and Gramps decide to move away and leave the shop in the care of Del’s scatterbrained parents! And their first order is for a big wedding: The bride wants everything—especially the flowers—to be PERFECT. Worse, the mean girl in Del’s class happens to be a junior bridesmaid! Can Del help her family and save the day?

#2: Flower Feud A rival florist has set up shop in town, and the Bloom family’s shop—Petal Pushers—is in trouble! The new flower shop is sleek and modern, while Petal Pushers is more classic and homespun. Plus, it’s prom season, so that means the race is on to get the best corsages, bouquets, and boutonnieres. When Del finds out that the son of the rival florists is the cute boy in her class, she’s torn. Can she stay true to her family while still being friends with her maybe crush?

Master of adventure Roland Smith returns with a thrilling new trilogy!

STORM RUNNERS Chase and his dad are “storm runners,” traveling across the country, chasing hurricanes, tornadoes, and floods. Anywhere the Weather Channel is focused, they aren’t far behind. When disaster strikes, Chase’s dad is ready to lend a hand...and if he makes a buck along the way, that isn’t such a bad thing either. It’s an exciting life for thirteen year old Chase, and it definitely beats sitting in a classroom the whole school year. But in the aftermath of the hurricane of the century, Chase realizes his “disaster hunter” dad isn’t the hero he makes himself out to be. Now it’s up to Chase to do the right thing...and in the process rescue the father he once knew. Roland Smith brings his trademark flair for action, adventure, and exciting storytelling to this new series—and it’s sure to leave young readers clamoring for more!

The fantastic conclusion to Garth Nix's New York Times bestselling series.

The Keys to the Kingdom #7” Lord Sunday On the seventh day, there was a choice. The House is falling apart, and when it is destroyed, all existence will be destroyed with it. Arthur Penhaligon and his friends Leaf and Suzy are caught in the chaos, separated by events but drawn together in their fight to survive. They must use every power at their disposal— magical or practical—to defeat the enemies attacking them from all sides. For Arthur, the most formidable challenge comes from Lord Sunday, the most elusive of the Trustees of the Will. Lord Sunday’s magic is unlike anything Arthur has encountered before— and his secrets have the potential to destroy not only Arthur, but also all the people he holds dear. On Monday, Arthur Penhaligon was just an ordinary boy thrust into an extraordinary situation. From Tuesday to Saturday, he emerged as the Rightful Heir to the Architect who created everything within the House. Now, on Sunday, he will face a choice of astonishing proportions—and a remarkable conclusion to a completely unforeseen adventure. 9780439436601 PB $7.99

GEEK FANTASY NOVEL

Be careful what you wish for. Really. Because wishes are bad. Very bad. They can get you trapped in fantasy worlds full of killer bunny rabbits, evil aunts, and bothersome bacteria, for example. Or at least that's Ralph's experience. He's been asked to spend the summer with his strange British relatives at their old manor house in order to set up their Wi Fi network. But there's much more going on than Internet access, of course. It's just that nobody told Ralph any of it. He's a gamer, sure. But this game is much stranger—and much funnier—than anything to be found on his Xbox. With wit, thrills, and a Terry Pratchett esque spin, E. Archer takes fantasy fans and (slightly) grown up wimpy kids on a magical romp. 9780545160407 HC $16.99

Bestselling author Kathryn Lasky plunges into the world of teen romance with a magical series about mermaids!

DAUGHTERS of the SEA #2: May

May Plum feels her life drying up. The sea calls to her, but her parents forbid her from swimming. She longs for books, but her mother finds her passion for learning strange. She yearns for independence, but a persistent suitor, Rudd, wants to tame her spirited ways. Yet after her fifteenth birthday, the urge to break free becomes overpowering and May makes a life changing discovery. She does not belong on land where girls are expected to be docile and obedient. She is a mermaid—a wild creature of the sea. For the first time in her life, May knows what freedom feels like—the thrill of exploring both the vast ocean and the previously forbidden books. She even catches the eye of Hugh, a handsome astronomy student who, unlike the townspeople, finds May anything but strange... But not everyone is pleased with May's transformation. Rudd decides that if he can't have May, no one will. He knows how to destroy her happiness and goes to drastic measures to ensure that May loses everything—her freedom and the only boy she's ever loved.

#1: Hannah

Hannah is not like other girls in the turn-of-the-century Boston orphanage where she grew up. Instead of seasickness, she gets land sickness. She leaves a ring of salt in the tub when she bathes, and sometimes she sees a faint tracing of scales on her feet. It's freakish, horrifying . . . and deeply thrilling. Hannah feels a change coming. But she is not the only one who senses it. A young painter recognizes something in Hannah--a connection with the sea that recalls a secret from his own past. A choice lies ahead, and Hannah must discover if she is a creature of the land--or of the sea.

From National Book Award winner Judy Blundell a lethal blend of love, mystery, and the Mob.

Strings Attached Kit Corrigan has always dreamed of being a star. But in order to get there, she needs to break up with Billy, who's going to Korea, and leave her family in Providence, Rhode Island, to move to New York City. There, she finds small roles and a city that's tough to live in. After she meets with Billy's father, Nate, things get a little easier. But Nate is a lawyer who defends mobsters, and soon Kit realizes that she has to do what he asks of her. Kit's life starts to feel beyond her control, especially once she uncovers a mystery that she needs to solve in order to protect the people she loves. As she did in her National Book Award–winning What I Saw and How I Lied, Judy Blundell traps readers in a web of deceit, intrigue, and profound moral questions. The result? One stunner of a novel. 9780545221269 HC $17.99
